"Accommodating People..."

We were contracted by Tenix, on behalf of Fluor, to supply a temporary accommodation village for the use of their personnel installing infrastructure to a remote part of Queensland.

Ensuring the comfort of their personnel, Tenix requested quality facilities with the focus on providing accommodation in a safe and well managed environment.

Adapting to central Queensland's rugged conditions we were able to ensure the village was environmentally viable as well as aesthetically pleasing.

Keeping to strict mine site regulations and requirements, we built relationships with contractors who were familiar with conditions in the area. This ensured a smooth transition to site and a productive installation schedule.

Being a hire village, utilising cost saving installation & tear-out techniques reduced costs for the Client and double handling for us increasing the building of trust and the potential for future dealings.
